MISCELLANEOUS.

The Brighter Glories of the Cross.

We copy from the Church of England Magazine, the following beautiful poetry, founded principally on the 18th and 64th verses of the 119th Psalm—"The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy; teach me thy statutes." "Open thou mine eyes that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law,"—Watch of the South.

The golden orb whose glance is day,
Night with her pearly hosts array,
The music of the ocean's swell,
The mountains hoar, the mossy dell,
The stream that rolls its murmurs by,
The meadow like an emerald sky,
The air that breathes, the trees that wave,
The flowers whose tints thy fingers gave,
All heaven, all earth, O God, declare
How numberless thy glories are.
Open mine eyes, that I may see
The wonders they reveal of thee.

The comforts that around me teem,
And make my home so happy seem;
The food that many a clime affords,
The raiment which thy care accords,
The friendship that lights up my way,
The love that smiles even night to day,
The fruit that gladdens, wine that cheers,
The voice whose tones would hush my fears,
The hand unseen that shapes my path,
And shields the helpless free from scath—
All, all that smooths life's thorny road
Declare thy providence, O God!
Open mine eyes, that I may see
The goodness it reveals of thee.

But more than these, and more than all,
The love that binds me most in thrall,
That chains my very heart to thee,
Glows in a Savior's agony.
I turn me from this happy home—
From lights that gild you sapphire dome;
From all the varied hues that die
Bright flowers, bright fields, bright sea and sky,
From all that gladdens life—away
I turn to glacial Golgotha.
There—in that place of skulls—appears
The sight that wakes, yet lulls my tears.
There Justice stands with brow severe;
But heaven-sent Mercy, too, is there.
See! as they bend above the form,
That braves the fury of the storm,
Pity's blest balm thy cheeks has wet;
Their hands are joined; their lips have met.
True, night her horrors round has shed
True, sackcloth shrouds day's shrinking head;
And rocks rush shuddering from their bed.
But, hark! that cry, "Thy sin shed!"
Rejoice, O earth! for light again,
And heaven, are purchased back for men.
Rejoice, O heaven! for man once more
May seek and tread thy tranquil shore.
Oh! dimmed is noon's meridian ray;
Earth's beauties fade like mist away;
Or do they not more glorious shine,
Blest Savior, gild by love like thine?
Might I but know thee as thou art—
But be as Thou, all pure in heart!
Wouldst thou but manifest to me
Thyself, thyself, thy sympathy!
Still, when thy love would seem most bright,
Fix on the cross my raptured sight;
Open my eyes, that I may see
The wonders Calvary tells of thee.

"Hallowed be thy Name."

BY MISS C. EDGARTON.

Hallowed! ay, hallowed! not alone in prayer,
But in our daily thoughts and daily speech;
At altar and at hearth-stone—every where
That temple-priests or home apostles preach.
Oh, not by words alone, but by our deeds,
And by our faith, and hope, and spirit's flame,
And by the nature of our private creed,
We hallow best and glorify Thy name.
Nature doth hallow it. In every star,<

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY,
OF KENTUCKY.

SEE FIRST PAGE.

It is very gratifying to find the Whig press of the country unanimously insisting upon the necessity and justice of the protective policy. Our exchanges from the remote south and the far west agree in this with those of the north and east. Protection is by the Whig press deemed a cardinal point of policy for the government to pursue for the benefit of all the people and for the independence and strength of the country. To afford protection to home labor is considered an essential duty of the government and to neglect which is to fail in one of the grand objects for which a national government was formed. To open our trade to the whole world while the world restricts us and each other must inevitably bring the severe competition of foreign wealth and foreign labor in competition with the capital and labor of the people of the United States. A good tariff prevents this. And on this account the Whig press go for a tariff for the tariff.

The Loco presses present a singular spectacle with regard to Protection. The mass of them denounce the whole matter of protection in gross, but for the party object of gaining votes they go to the extreme in demanding the highest protection on articles in which their particular readers are interested. Thus for instance, the loco press in Vermont pretend they would have no duties upon anything but wool and on that they go beyond any sober protectionist in the country. In the interior of New York the Loco press would have no duties on anything but salt, as that is manufactured there and on salt there should be heavy duties. In Louisiana again the loco press go for a high duty on sugar and no duties on anything else! Suppose now we bring these denunciations of protection in general but its red mouthed supporters in particular into Congress to devise a tariff. If each section of the party should succeed we should have a tariff too high for its own safety or for the convenience of the people. If their general notions, in which they agree, should prevail, we should have no tariff but free trade. This gives a picture of Loco theories when the practical test is applied.

The low cunning of some of the Loco leaders is seen and their opposition to the present tariff manifested in a recent case. By the present tariff gold and silver watches jewelry &c. are placed at a small duty in order to take away the motive for smuggling, as such articles contain great value in small bulk. The cry was raised and spread that the low duty was to favor the rich and to keep luxuries untaxed! A few days since some persons undertook to smuggle a lot of watches &c. and the cry was again raised that the high duties encouraged smuggling, and therefore of immoral tendency! This is a specimen of Locofoecism.

The lecture before the Mechanic Association last evening by A. Young, Jr. was listened to with great attention by a large audience. It was intentionally discursive in the range of subjects, but was highly interesting on account of its variety and the able and pleasant manner in which the several topics were treated.

After examining various means and facilities offered for scientific pursuits, which he considered the pleasure and profit of mechanics, the lecture gave a pleasant passage nearly in the words following:—

In using the word mechanic, I wish it to have the largest possible extension. Not "mean, servile, of mean occupation, a manufacturer, a low workman" as Walker has defined it; but a man, in the full development of his nature, and as ordained by the Almighty "in the sweat of thy face, shalt thou eat bread." And who let me ask, is there living upon the face of the habitable globe, with the exception of a few dandies and loafers, who are not working men, mechanics, or any definition you may please to give?

No occupation of life shuns or screens the term mechanic! All work, all labor, and indeed all study, if rightly applied, is mechanical!

There would have been no Burritt, to call the "learned Blacksmith" had he not forged and hammered like a smith! No Watt, if he had not sweat and steamed machinery to know what! No Fulton, if he had screened his steam-boat project from the people as fools! No Franklin, had he not developed philosophy and statesmanship frankly! But I am far, far from ability and wit to present more names so categorically; may they suffice to define the position of manual labor, and its combination with the intellect, so that, what the mind may produce as abstract truths, the hand may bring to practical advantage. Indeed, the connection, between the mind and body, is so universally admitted, that societies and associations, are everywhere moving, to embrace this method of labor and learning. What can be more productive of great individual and collective benefit? They stimulate the mind and body to exertion; they produce emulation, and form habits of observing with accuracy, and of reading with attention. They elicit powers, that would otherwise be dormant; they collect knowledge that would otherwise be scattered.

Would this library, this collection of minerals, &c. have been heaped in this Hall, without this communion of cultivated minds?

This Association and our Lyceum have given rise to another—the Bangor Mercantile Association.

Let us hail this as the commencement of a new era in the diffusion of light and truth in our community.

How happy must be its benign influence on knowledge! Thirty years ago is an antiquity compared to the present! How mighty the progress! how many new discoveries have been made in this brief period!

Even this Earth, up to the nineteenth century, considered as a space "without form and void," is now, in a space of time almost incredible to the human understanding, presented to her inhabitants in a structural shape, as demonstrable as the inward channels and organs of man!

It indeed would be a Herculean task, for a person of the most gifted education, to transcend his powers to a descriptive account of all the inventions and discoveries which have shed a flood of light upon society, and benefitted their prospects and character, within the period mentioned, and neither need it be undertaken, for the results of labor and science are already before us. Every movement, every enterprise of man, is the engraven sequel of science!

Post Office Reform.

A general movement for a reform in the rates of postage is going on all over the country and petitions will flock in to Congress in such abundance as to demand attention. The subject is an important one as almost every man in the community feels that the rates of postage are enormous and not only contracts correspondence but leads to various modes of sending letters out of the Mail, in spite of the law which denies the people such a right.

The following petition to Congress prepared in New York appears to cover the ground and we recommend it or a similar one to be signed and forwarded from every town in the State.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

The undersigned, citizens and payers of Postage, respectfully represent—

1. That the Postage now imposed by the Government are exorbitant, oppressive to the People, and calculated to defeat their avowed object of making the Post Office Department pay its own expenses;

2. That the "Franking Privilege" as it is now authorized and exercised, is unjust, unequal, anti-republican, and ought to be utterly abolished, except as it may be expedient to allow it to cover the strictly official correspondence of the Post Office Department itself;

3. That not one-third of the correspondence of the country now pays Postage in the Mails, nor will it until the Rates of Postage are greatly reduced, and the Franking Privilege abolished;

4. That a uniform charge of five cents, in advance, on each letter weighing not more than half an ounce, and of five cents additional on every half ounce thereafter, for all distances, would afford at least as much revenue, and be vastly more beneficial to the Public, than the present exorbitant rates;

5. That the present arbitrary, capricious, and excessive charges on the conveyance of printed matter, other than newspapers, in the Mails, seems directly calculated to drive away custom from the Department, when its plain interest should lead it to court and attract business, as all of us are obliged to do it we would live by it. We would therefore, request the adoption of a uniform Rate of Postage of one-half cent on every Newspaper, Periodical, or Printed Sheet, conveyed in the Mail, when the Postage is paid in advance, and double that sum on each sheet which may be so conveyed, when it is not so paid in advance;

6. That the reduction of our Rates of Postage to sums computed, and payable in the Federal Currency of this Union, is demanded by a just regard to National character, no less than to the obvious convenience of the People;

7. That the penal enactments and denunciations, by which it is sought to compel the People to support the Post Office, when their own interest and convenience may be better subserved without it, are absurd, tyrannical, inefficient for any good purpose, and ought to be abolished.

Wherefore, we entreat your honorable bodies to take early, decided, and efficient measures for the relief of the People from the burdens under which they have long groined, and which threaten the destruction of the utility and solvency of the Post Office, by the total withdrawal of the public confidence and patronage.

From Hayti.

Advices to the 13th ultimo from Port au Prince received in Philadelphia, state that the President of the Convention assembled to form a constitution, had resigned in consequence of being treated with disrespect, and that another was to be elected on the 13th. The sergeant who so promptly shot down the negro generals who attempted a counter revolution, had been made a lieutenant by the provisional government. The national vessel Pacification had been sold, and Hayti now had a single national vessel.—General Riviere Heraud is expected to be the successful candidate for the President. He is a mulatto, forty-five years of age. The Provisional Government has recently sent to England, to negotiate a loan on a patent of the gold and copper mines, existing on the northeastern part of the island, and which are said to be very rich.—The loan is to be appropriated in liquidating the French claims.

Atlantic and Pacific Canal.

The survey for a canal to unite the Atlantic with the Pacific Oceans by the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, is completed, and Santa Ana has issued a decree in favor of the contractor, Don Jose Garay, and a prison capable of accommodating over 300 convicts is to be built under his direction for the contemplated canal. The judicial authorities of Vera Cruz and Oajaca are required to send to the said prison all persons found guilty, in order that they be employed in digging and working on said canal.

A lodge of Odd Fellows was established in Portland only a few months since, and it now numbers over four hundred members. The gridiron has been kept pretty hot!

We have received a communication from S. W. Corz, Esq., on the subject of Fruit, which we shall publish on Tuesday. It will be found very interesting to all growers of fruit.

The Belfast Republican states that Emily A. Worthing, whose clothing was found upon a wharf in this city, a few days since appeared in that town dressed in boy's clothing, and in company with the young sailor with whom she was intimate here, and applied for assistance in getting to Boston. But the female boy was discovered, and the couple left in the steam boat.

The Bath Telegraph received yesterday gives the returns from all the fourth districts except two towns, giving Morse 103 and others. It puts down as deficient in votes, Norricktown and Monhegan. We understand why this is, as the returns from these places have been previously published. There can be no doubt, we think, of Morse's election by over fifty majorities.

An affair occurred in Albany, on Tuesday between Messrs. H. C. Meech and Charles S. Olmstead, in which the latter was seriously injured. Mr. Meech went to Mr. Olmstead's office, where, after some altercation about some business matters, a scuffle ensued, and Mr. O. was thrown to the bottom of the stairs. He struck on his head, and was taken up senseless.

On Friday of last week, ten slaves who were about to be conveyed out of the District of Columbia to Canada, without the leave of their masters, were arrested in Washington. A colored man named John Bush, in whose stable six of the slaves were found secreted, has been arrested and held to bail in the sum of $500.

Mr. Jonathan Cowley, says the Belfast Journal, was seriously injured in returning home from Belfast a few evenings since, by being thrown from his wagon over the side of a bridge down a gully fifteen feet deep. He will probably recover.

The New York Express states that the money market is more abundant than it ever has been, the rate has fallen one per cent. Four per cent. is all it will command, and large discounts have been made at three, and even 2 1/2 per cent.

Those who have neglected banking up their cellars, securing their wood and getting all things ready for a hard winter, should now attend to such matters.

Capt. Edes of the Piscataquis Farmer criticizes a typographical error of one letter in our paper. We could retort by noticing a dozen in his.

The Hon. Richard T. Earle, formerly Chief Judge of the Second Judicial District of Maryland, died on Wednesday.

The request of the Kennebec Journal shall be complied with.

We learn that Mr. Severance has left Augusta for Washington.

Men and boys were exercising themselves on skates on the ice in our harbor yesterday.

The Ciceronean Club will meet this evening.

The Mail arrived last evening at quarter before eleven o'clock.

The weather has been cold for several days but delightfully clear and bright.

Ireland.

The Philadelphia Mercury says of Mr. J. A. Shea's Lecture in that City on "Ireland as a Separate Nation"—

"One would suppose, that on such a subject, one so often treated on, and in a measure hackneyed, it would be next to impossible to present it in any new light. But most admirably did Mr. Shea overcome this difficulty; he not only clothed it with a different garb, but the great force, brilliancy, and vivacity of his powerful imagination, invested it with so much interest, that never for a moment did the attention of his audience flag or grow weary. He introduced that religious and political leviathan, the Established Church of England, and by comparative statements of the amounts paid for supporting it, in England and Ireland, (of which Ireland pays far the larger share, besides supporting a hierarchy of her own,) deduced that, so far as wealth was concerned, she was more than able to sustain a national position. In like manner he proved regarding her extent of territory, amount of population, agricultural, commercial, and manufacturing resources, as compared with those of the other European States."

Tennessee Legislature.

The Senate has passed a bill to reduce the salaries of all the Public Officers. A bill has been introduced into the House, laying a tax upon all Public Officers from the Governor down to the Constables, the taxing ranging from $200 to $100, according to the dignity and importance of the office, and the salaries and fees annexed to each.

Fire in Port Gibson—Court House Burned.

A friend at Grand Gulf writes as follows:—"On the last night of the election, after they had quit counting out the votes for the evening, a fire originated in the Sheriff's office where the election was held, and was not discovered until nearly day light in the morning. Every book and paper in the Sheriff's office was consumed, and the Court House is a mass of ruins. The records &c. in the circuit and Probate Clerks' rooms were all saved."

The building destroyed at Port Gibson was a very handsome one, erected at considerable cost, and is the second Court House burned, in that place within the last four years.—New Orleans Courier.

Sleeping in Church.

Some people have an unfortunate propensity to sleep in Church. They may be seen during the sermon perpetually bowing on one side and then on the other, nodding to the right and left and then forward and backward, to the great hazard of the vertebrae of the neck. Others take the matter more coolly, and having fixed themselves in a comfortable position, they utter tones like

"Sonorous metal breathing martial sounds,"

until some disturbed neighbor gives them a dig in the ribs, or an anxious lady near by rouses the sleeper from his reverie by a talismanic touch from the hymn book or a fan. A gentleman escorted a lady to church in Philadelphia not long since, and then fell asleep in his pew. She was so mortified that she left the house. He felt exceedingly cheap when he woke and found her absent.—New Haven Courier

The Boundary Survey.
By a private letter from Madawaska, we are informed that the boundary surveying party under Colonel Escort, is now remaining in the woods all winter, and are preparing log-houses along the new line from Lake St. Francis to Daquem. Depots of provisions are being formed on the Great and Little Black Rivers, which will be the principal station during the winter. The surveys and the clearing out of the line will be completed without intermission.

It is of course to be expected that the surveying party are subjected to so much determination and perseverance, and are to be deterred from the prosecution of their arduous duties by the privations of a winter in the wilderness. The Ashburton Treaty and the energy of Colonel Escort will soon bring this long pending dispute to the final close.—From the St. John, New Brunswick of Oct. 31.
